

Dr. Heather Kelleher -- Mini Biography

Dr. Heather Kelleher teaches in the Faculty of Education at UBC. She works as a workshop leader both nationally and internationally, and is the author of Mathworks A and B, and a coauthor of Houghton Mifflin Mathematics and Nelson Mathematics.

Heather led the Ministry of Education's three-year early numeracy research initiative with a goal to enhance numeracy learning for the youngest learners, particularly those at-risk in the area of mathematics.

Heather is one of BC's and Canada's most sought-after early numeracy experts. She continues to work with teachers across western Canada, to build understanding of how to recognize, assess and support the development of early numeracy.
