

EXAMPLES OF QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DATA

	Examples of Quantitative Data	Examples of Qualitative Data
Student Performance Data	A variety of test results including standardized tests, provincial, district, school and classroom assessments Report card grades The number of students receiving special services Attendance rates, mobility rates, suspension rates, drop-out rates· Scholarship winners Percentage of high school graduates Transition rates	Student portfolios and other work products Videotapes of student work, performances Exhibitions Student surveys, including: pleasure reading inventories, self-esteem items and self-assessments. Student journals and learning logs Observational records, anecdotal and running records Student interviews Checklists
Program Data	Teacher-student ratios Numbers of students enrolled in various programs, e.g., advanced placement All-day Kindergarten, District Prevention/intervention programs Budget and resource allocations Professional development opportunities	Videotapes of special events, classroom, hallways Meeting agendas, minutes, memos Artifacts, e.g., awards, photos of bulletin boards Staff interviews Workshop and training program descriptions Bulletins and newsletters

Community Data	Data on demographics, e.g., enrollment projections  Number of school/business and industry partnerships  Employment rates; employment sectors in the area  Outreach programs, pre-school, homework help and tutoring	Focus group data  Opinion surveys  Interviews with parents and community members
-----------------------	--	--